

POWAKADDY FREEWAY II

Price: £449 (18-hole), £479 (36-hole), £699 (Lithium battery)

Weight: 9kg Warranty: Two years

What's the score? The FW II is an update of the massively popular Freeway trolley, which has been around for a lengthy period of time. Powakaddy have long been one of the pillars of the electric trolley society and the latest addition, which comes some 26 years after the very first Powakaddy, looks just as solid as previous offerings.

What do we think? The first thing to say is that, because it's a Powakaddy, it has a massive reputation based on pure quality.

The FWII is no exception. The elliptical frame is sturdy and solid, as well as being easy on the eye. We like the easy-to-use control panel and the cool console-esque handle. The FWII is fitted with a distance-measuring facility, as well as a Digital Distance Function which allows the golfer to set the trolley to travel a distance of 10, 20 or 30 yards. And one gem that we nearly missed was that the FWII folds down completely, even when the super-light lithium battery is still in place. Awesome.

Folds away

Even with the lithium battery in place, the FWII folds down perfectly neatly.

Motion control

A digital distance function lets you set the FWII's progress.
